AGREES TO

VILLISTAS ARE DEFEATED

PERSHING PREPARING FOR LONG STAY IN MEXICO.

WASHINGTON, July 29.—General Carranza will agree to the suggestion in the American note that the commissions to settle the border dispute be given "enlarged powers." Officials of the state department and the de facto governments of Mexico settled this point before the note was handed to Ambassador Designate Arredondo last night.

Briefly, Carranza's acceptance of the American suggestion will be the first step toward placing American credit behind the financial resuscitation of Mexico. No direct loan by the American government is contemplated, however.

MEXICO CITY, July 29.—Two more victories over the Villistas forces were announced today. General Pablo Salinas has been killed and 120 men of his command, who were captured, have been executed. General Pedro Morales has captured Ocampo after stubborn resistance. A campaign against Zapatista forces has also been opened and they are being pressed steadily southward.

PERSHING READY TO STAY.

U. S. Commander Keeps Fight on the Job in Mexico.

EL PASO, Texas, July 29.—Agreement by the United States to the proposal that a joint international commission settle the difference between the United States and Mexico is expected by border observers here to have the following results:

1.—Withdrawal of General Pershing's expedition.

2.—Establishing of a border patrol with Carranza and American soldiers operating.

These developments are not imminent, however. General Pershing is preparing for a stay of several months in Mexico and his expedition will not be withdrawn until the commission has reached a final settlement. In this the Mexican representatives must show that the border patrol which is planned will be effective on the south side of the international boundary.

The most important immediate result may be that First Chief Carranza will secure financial backing for his government. It some quarters here it is asserted that the head of the de facto government has won a diplomatic victory that will win him the support of a number of American financiers who had hitherto refused him monetary aid.

The establishment of an effective border patrol probably will keep the American militia now on the border at their stations for several months. Members of the legalista junta here who have been quite silent for many days aroused themselves at the report of the two governments' agreement and declared that Pancho Villa has offered to quit Mexico if the legalista plan of government gets under way.

Their greatest tactical move in this direction was the promise that former Madero officers would play a big part in the new organization. Word of Villa himself is rather vague. But it is known for a fact that his bandits are active along the Durango state line and some of them are raiding far north in Chihuahua.

EASTERN OIL TAKES
TEN CENT PLUNGE

PITTSBURGH, Pa., July 29.—The Joseph Seep Purchasing Agency today announced a reduction of 10 cents a barrel in the prices of all grades of crude oil. The new prices are:

Pennsylvania, $2.50; Mercer Black $2; Newcastle, $2; Corning, $2; Cabel $2.02; Somerset, $1.85; Ragland, $2 cents.

ASK FOR FEDERAL AID.

WASHINGTON, July 29.—Congressmen from the flood-stricken districts of the south appealed to the house military committee for federal aid. Chairman Hay said the war department officers now in the flood territory would make reports on its needs and the committee would meet again, probably Monday, to consider action. Thousands of persons, the congressmen told the committee, are homeless.

Why the British Are Driving the Germans Back

WHY THE BRITISH—WITH OUT
Here is the reason why the British are driving the Germans back in the great offensive they have carried on for several weeks. They have mounted ed their great guns, guns supplied by the genius of Lloyd George as war minister, on railway flat cars. These, as is shown in the photograph, have been wheeled right up to the firing line. Some weeks ago Herbert Corey, the most famous of the war correspondents, wrote that the British had built 30,000 miles of railway back of their lines. This photograph is the proof of the correctness of his assertions. Never have the Germans, with all their thoroughness, fired their great guns from railway carriages.

Fall of Brody sends Teutons back toward Lemberg.

Petrograd, July 29.—General Boehm-Ermoloff's Austro-German army which was driven from Brody by the Russians, is retreating in a westerly direction along the Lemberg-Dubno railway toward Busk.

By the capture of Brody the Austro-German positions on the Stry river in the region of Berestetschko are seriously menaced and a general withdrawal of the Teutons from that region is imminent.

Although the Austro-Hungarians blow up warehouses, magazines and fortified works before retreating from Brody, an immense amount of war stores fell into the hands of the Russians as well as many prisoners.

Railway bridges were dynamited but before the Russian army was well into Brody and while the glare of burning buildings and the explosion of munitions was still lighting up the countryside, engineers were at work repairing the damage.

The fall of Brody opens the way for an advance upon Lemberg from the northeast and it is believed that the Austro-Hungarians have already made preparations to evacuate the Galician capital. The advance guard of the Russians, it is estimated, is now about 45 miles from Lemberg.

FRYATT EXECUTION DENOUNCED

United States Cannot Take Official Notice of the Incident.

AMSTERDAM, July 29.—Execution of Captain Charles Fryatt, the skipper of the British steamer Brussels, by the Germans has aroused indignation in shipping circles of Holland. The feeling of bitterness is shared by the general public and press, as evidenced by the following statement published in the Nieuws Rotterdamse Courant today:

BALTIMORE, Md., July 29.—Anxiety over the fate of the German super-submarine Bremen today forced agents of the Pioneer Commercial submersible Deutschland to make extraordinary efforts to secure information as to the whereabouts of the second commercial submarine. Captain Paul Koenig, of the Deutschland and Paul Hilken, agent of the Deutsche Ozean Rhederei, which owns the undersea boat, after a lengthy conference, decided to make an earnest effort to find the Bremen.

The Baltimore agents determined to get in touch with Count Von Bernstorff, the German ambassador now in New York and seek the aid of German diplomacy in locating the German missing submarine which is now a week overdue in an American port. The German agents here have been hampered in their work of preparing the Deutschland for her dash for the open sea by the lack

STREET CAR STRIKE
REACHES NEW YORK

NEW YORK, July 29.—The street car strike which spread from Yonkers into the Bronx was extended to the borough of Manhattan today when 300 employees of the Third Avenue Railway company quit. Strike leaders predicted a tie-up of all the Third Avenue lines.

Hundreds of policemen were on duty in the northern end of the city patrolling the lines affected by the strike. In addition to the foot policemen there were detachments from the mounted and motorcycle sections.

It was charged that gangsters were hired in the Bronx to take the places of strikers and the police went among the strike-breakers warning all that were known to be gangsters to leave at once.

WOMEN'S VOTES ARE

IOWA CITY, Iowa, July 29.—Six hundred and ninety women who voted in the recent special election on the issuing of $250,000 in bonds for five graded school buildings in Iowa City didn't spoil one of their ballots. The men, who cast 990 ballots, had fifty-one votes disallowed by the judges.

"Ach Gott It Vas Cinnamon
Not Snuff!" Rouses Court

Woman Checkmates Husband's Attorney in Divorce Case.

"Ach, Gott, 'pon my honor, wondered where my cinnamon had gone to. That's just as much as a man knows about a woman's business," said Mrs. Hannah M. Rable of 1018 North Jefferson street, when handed a box of something supposed to be snuff in common pleas court this morning, by Attorney Frank H. Downing, who was defending the case of her husband, Adolph Rable, for divorce.

Mrs. Rable had acknowledged in her testimony to the use of snuff, saying she took it about 25 or 30 times a day. Attorney Downing, in handing her the box, wanted her to identify the snuff.

Rable had gotten hold of the wrong box to use as an exhibit in the evidence.

The court nearly fell off the bench, the spectators, few in number, enjoyed the huge joke and laughed outright. The bailiff laughed, but rapped for order. Attorneys who listened to the case said that it had been one of the most amusing things in their long line of experience in court matters.

Both are over fifty years old and the hair of both is streaked with grey.

Common pleas court has not for a long time presented such an animated scene as this morning, when the Rable divorce case was on trial. Mrs. Rable speaks broken English and she talked so fast and went into such tantrums in the court room, that her own attorney, R. C. Eastman, was compelled to talk sharply to her, while she rebuked Attorney F. H. Downing for the prosecution and showed the embittered feeling she maintained toward her husband.

Her actions were such Court Judge Frank Klingler was compelled to rap repeatedly for order and Judge John P. Bailey of Ottawa, who was hearing the case, brought down the gavel several times. Adolph Rable responded from his stand near his attorney to the evidence of his wife, right out loud in court, and it was necessary for Bailiff Klingler to threaten to put him out, before he would keep still.

Mrs. Rable On the Stand.
She finally acknowledged that when they were waiting for the justice of the peace to come to marry them and Adolph was on the verge of giving up and not entering the married state, she urged him on. Their marriage occurred in the office of Welty and Downing in Lima.

In her testimony, Mrs. Rable said Adolph could drink a case of beer himself over Sunday. But she said she drank too and used about 10 or 15 cents' worth of whiskey a week. Mrs. Rable said all their trouble arose when she felt she was not getting the amount of money she wanted from Rable. He is said to have a good-sized nest egg in one of the local banks, but he refused to allow Mrs. Rable to see his pass book, she declared. He had children by a previous marriage and Mrs. Rable has one child. They were married in 1909 and the trouble soon began.

She wanted to keep boarders and he objected. He had one of the boarders, a certain Ramsey, arrested, for alleged stealing, but he was not convicted by the court, so Mrs. Rable told in her testimony.

Some months ago, when the yoke became unbearable, a written contract was drawn up by their respective attorneys and they signed it, whereby they were to respect each other, that she was to mend his clothes, do his washing and cooking, and he was to live in two rooms of her home and pay her $20 a month.

The Mrs. Rable told how he ordered her boarders, especially Ramsey, away and that without money she could not live and sought a divorce. Attorney Downing practically forced Mrs. Rable to admit that it was after she was drinking with Ramsey and he had been discovered

Teuton Air Raid On England Coast In Lincolnshire Is Failure;
London Says

PARIS, July 29.—German forces are still pounding away at Verdun despite the terrific pressure of the allies against the German positions on the Somme front.

The French war office in its official communique today states that the Germans delivered attacks on both sides of the Meuse river last night but that all were repulsed.

On the right bank (the eastern) the French delivered counter attacks and scored further gains.

There was heavy cannonading on the Verdun front last night, particularly on the right side of the Meuse.

INFANTILE PLAGUE
DEATHS INCREASING

NEW YORK, July 29.—Today's figures on the infantile paralysis epidemic showed an increase in both deaths and new cases. The deaths numbered 44 and the new cases 151 as compared with 35 deaths and 151 cases the day before.

The total cases up to the present is 4,723; the deaths total 788. During the last 24 hours the health department has issued 6,099 certificates to persons desiring to leave the city and avoid being stopped by the quarantine maintained against New York. The number of such certificates issued totals 81,799 to date but 60,000 persons are believed to have left the city to escape danger before the certificate plan was evolved.

SUSPECT FATHER IS CHILD'S KIDNAPER

CLEVELAND, July 29.—Police and detectives today were searching the city for Jimmy Guyett, 3, kidnapped by two men while playing in the street in front of the home of his grandmother, Mrs. Lydia Sutton, with whom he lived for the last year and a half, pending a divorce action which was to be settled next Tuesday. Nearby towns have been notified to be on the lookout for Jimmy and his captors. Police say the boy's mother suspects his father of taking him.

Reprieved For One Day
Within Hour Of Death
In The Electric Chair

OSSINING, N. Y., July 29.—One hour before the time set for his execution this morning, Charles Stielow was granted a stay until 11 o'clock tonight by Supreme Court Justice Guy of New York City.

All arrangements had been made for the electrocution. The death chair had been tested and Stielow had made spiritual preparation for his end when Justice Guy called up the prison on the telephone and asked that execution be postponed until tonight because he had some new and important papers in the case to consider. Warden Thomas M. Osborne was absent at the time, but Chief Keeper Darner said that the request would be granted and the witnesses who had gathered were notified.

Stielow, who was in his cell with the Rev. A. M. Peterson when the news was broken to him, exclaimed: "Oh, I hope to God they are able to do something for me."

Stielow had already donned the black suit in which he was to die. One leg of his trousers had been slit and his head had been shaved for the fixing of the deadly electrodes. Mrs. Stielow, whose request to Governor Whitman for a reprieve had been refused a few hours earlier, was in a hotel in Ossining with her children, and broke down when she received the news.

Stielow was convicted of the murder of Charles Phelps, a farmer, at Medina, N. Y., and his housekeeper, Margaret Wolcott.

The electrocution was postponed without any papers being issued, but Justice Guy made it known that if the papers under his observation warranted it he would grant a formal order staying sentence of death until further judicial attention could be given the case.

Many strangers to the Stielow family have been enlisted in his behalf. By his mildness of manner and gentle demeanor the convicted man won the hearts of many about him in the prison. One attendant who has figured at many executions declared "he would not help put Stielow to death for $10,000."

PETROGRAD, July 29.—The Austro-Hungarian base of Bressany, on the Zlota Lipa river, southwest of Tarnopol, has been captured by the Russians. It was officially announced today.

Austro-German troops have been hurled back by the armies of General Brusiloff on the whole front between the Kovel-Rovno railway and Brody in Volhynia and northeastern Galicia.

The total prisoners taken in the recent fighting up to yesterday total 400 officers and 20,000 men.

LONDON, July 29.—From two to three German regiments were wiped out in the savage fighting in Delville road, it was officially reported. Savage counter attacks have been delivered by the Germans in an effort to recapture the wood from the British, but the war office in an official communication issued early this afternoon, states that all were repulsed with heavy losses.

LONDON, July 29.—Another attempt by Germany to strike terror to English hearts through an aerial raid was completely failed. The war office announced today that no casualties and only immaterial damage has been done by three airships which raided Lincolnshire and Norfolk early today.

FRYATT EXECUTION DENOUNCED

United States Cannot Take Official Notice of the Incident.

AMSTERDAM, July 29.—Execution of Captain Charles Fryatt, the skipper of the British steamer Brussels, by the Germans has aroused indignation in shipping circles of Holland. The feeling of bitterness is shared by the general public and press, as evidenced by the following statement published in the Nieuws Rotterdamse Courant today:

"This execution may be in conformity with German moral teaching but from the human standpoint it is indefensible. Captain Fryatt was forced by merciless German submarine warships to defend his ship against attacks which meant its destruction and the death of all aboard. The execution was sheer injustice." Other Dutch newspapers bitterly criticize the German government for permitting the judgment of the court that tried Fryatt being carried out.

WASHINGTON, July 29.—The United States can take no official cognizance of the execution of Captain Fryatt, British merchant commander, shot after court-martial by the Germans. This was made plain in official circles today where it was explained that the case was one entirely between England and Germany.

Officials, however, were fearful that out of the shooting would come developments which might involve this country. It is expected here that a demand will be universal throughout England that a German submarine or Zeppelin commander be tried and executed in reprisal. This could be done by court-martialing any of the submarine commanders who torpedoed merchant vessels without warning or any commander of a Zeppelin who participated in raids across England.

Following the loss of the Lusitania it required the strongest repressive measures to prevent the pressing of resolutions through the British parliament demanding that submarine captives be treated as pirates. It is believed by officials here that it will now be doubly hard to hold such a spirit in check.

THE IDLER

The Allen County Centennial and Home-Coming association held a meeting this afternoon at the Chamber of Commerce, to consider the adoption of constitution and by-laws and organization in the townships.

Workmen will begin repairing and re-decorating the interior of the First Christian church, West and Elm street, next Tuesday. It is the purpose of the congregation to make this one of the prettiest and most comfortable churches in the city. Sunday's services will be the last to be held in the edifice until it is again ready for occupancy. After next Sunday, the Sunday school sessions and the morning preaching services will be held elsewhere, place to be announced Sunday. No evening services will be held during August. The mid-week services will be held in the homes of members and will be announced from time to time.

William Jackson was elected president, Edward Wells, vice president, A. A. Smith, treasurer, and Raymond Chavous, secretary, of the new Cosmopolitan club, a colored voters' organization, at a meeting held last night at 1259 south Main street. Twenty-five men are members. The candidacy of Myron T. Herrick for United States senator was endorsed.

The driver of the Pathfinder touring car which passed through Lima several days ago on a record trip from San Francisco to New York, left a letter at the Lima House for Mr. and Mrs. I. L. Miss Georgiana MacMullen of New York City, sister of Mrs. E. A. Williams, Jr., will sing tomorrow morning at Christ church, Episcopal. Miss MacMullen is a singer of rare ability, with a voice of beautiful quality.

In her room, that Rable ordered him away.

Tells How She Beat Him. On the witness stand, talking as fast as she could, Mrs. Rable told how she gave Rable a beating which she thought he deserved. She said:

"It was after the trial of Ramsey. He was mad because he was not convicted. He slammed the door of his bedroom shut so hard that I thought the knob would drop off. I told him to lock it, so that every old thing could not go in and out. He said he wouldn't do it. I told him he would, or I would. He shoved me out of the door and into the front room. I made a dash for him, got him across the bed and with his old gum shoes, I gave him all that was coming to him. I want you to understand (speaking to Attorney Downing), that I can take my part against any one and don't you forget it."

Mrs. Rable's testimony was along the same line as that given above. She does not write and a German interpreter was used at the time the contract between the two was drawn up a few months ago. She was the only witness placed on the stand before dinner. The case was continued this afternoon.

KILLED BY CARS.

FARM CREDIT BANKS WILL BE LOCATED BY NEW LOAN BOARD

Many State Capitals Will be Visited Before Decision is Reached.

WASHINGTON, July 29.—Division of the county into 12 federal land bank districts and location of federal land banks in each of them under the new rural credits law, will be undertaken soon by the federal farm loan board, four of whose members were nominated by President Wilson.

The four members are Charles E. Lobdell, of Kansas; George W. Norris, of Pennsylvania; W. S. A. Smith, of Iowa; and Herbert Quick, of West Virginia.

Hearings on the designation of districts and the location of banks probably will begin some time in September. The first of these is expected to be held here, and most of the state capitals probably will be visited before they are concluded.

The banks will not come in direct contact with farmer borrowers, but will operate through national farm associations, corporations chartered by the farm loan board under authority of congress and operating in the farming communities where loans are sought.

All loans to be made under the system must be secured by first mortgages, providing for amortization over a period of years and at interest not exceeding 6 per cent.

No loan may exceed 50 per cent of the value of the land mortgaged and 20 per cent of the value of permanent improvements, nor be greater than $10,000 nor less than $100. Mortgages may run from five to 40 years.

Charles E. Lobdell is a lawyer and farmer, has served 10 years in the Kansas legislature, was speaker of the Kansas house in 1895, and was a judge in the state courts for nine years. He is president of a bank in Great Bend and also of a loan association and is past president of the Kansas Bar association and Kansas Bankers' association.

George W. Norris is a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania, has been successively newspaperman, lawyer and banker. He is director and deputy chairman of the federal reserve bank of Philadelphia and a close student of rural credits and farm economics.

W. S. A. Smith, a farmer by occupation and attached to the department of agriculture, has had banking experience at Sioux City, where he was connected in an executive capacity with a national bank.

Herbert Quick is well known as a writer on economic topics and has devoted many years to the study of rural credits and other farm problems. Until a few months ago he was editor of their Farm and Fireside, published at Springfield, Ohio. He has also practiced law and served a term as mayor of Sioux City, Iowa.

PLAN TO LET OHIO MILITIA VOTE AT PRIMARY AUGUST 8

CAMP WILLIS, Ohio, July 29.—Satisfied that the eight thousand militiamen here will be in Ohio on the day of the primaries, August 8th, officers today began figuring out a method whereby the men can all be given a one-day furlough so they can go home and vote.

While a few officers thought President Wilson would have the power to send the men to their homes, the majority were of the opinion that it would require a special act of congress to demobilize the entire camp for a day. It was agreed that Governor Willis had no authority over the men at all, as they were mobilized under a call of the president.

General W. V. McMillen, camp commander, has the authority to release five per cent of the camp's population for a day but it was thought he would not take advantage of it because of the opportunity for charges of favoritism from the soldiers not included in the 400.

The higher officials today were contemplating asking Senators Harding and Pomeroy to inquire into the status of the matter and, if necessary, try to put through a special act in congress next week authorizing all national guardsmen being held in state camps to go to their homes a week from Tuesday to vote.

The hope for border duty became more remote today when it was reported that the eight thousand pair of shoes requisitioned three weeks ago have not yet been made. Many of the men are almost in their bare feet and they have no money to buy civilian shoes with.

YOU SHOULD WORRY, WOODROW!

Fraudulent Infantile Paralysis "Cures"

Department of Agriculture Instructs Food and Drug Inspectors to Watch for Any Fraudulent Remedies.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 29.—

Officials of the department of agriculture charged with the enforcement of the Food and Drug Act expect that the outbreak of infantile paralysis will tempt unscrupulous persons to offer for sale so-called "cures" or remedies for this dread malady. They, therefore, have issued special instructions to the Food and Drug inspectors to be particularly alert for interstate shipments or importations of medicines, the makers of which allege that they will cure or alleviate this disease, for which, at the present time, no medicinal cure is known.

The officials also warn the public that any preparation put on the market and offered for sale as being effective for the treatment of infantile paralysis should be looked upon with extreme suspicion. Inspectors, accordingly, have been instructed to regard as suspicious, and to collect samples of all medicines in interstate commerce for which such claims are made. Makers of such fraudulent remedies will be vigorously prosecuted whenever the evidence warrants action under the Sherman Amendment to the Food and Drug Act. So-called remedies for infantile paralysis which are offered for import into the country will be denied entry.

The Food and Drug officials are particularly watchful in this instance because it has been noted in the past that whenever a serious epidemic exists, unscrupulous dealers prey upon the fear or ignorance of the public by flooding the market with worthless, hastily prepared concoctions, for which they assert curative properties which have no foundation whatever in fact. In the present instance, inspectors already have discovered shipments of a few such mixtures.

The department will do everything it can under Federal law to protect that portion of the public which is extremely credulous in times of panic and which will grasp at anything which promises protection or relief. The sale of such products at this time, the officials point out, is particularly threatening to the public health because many persons, relying on the false statements of impostors, neglect to secure competent medical advice. As a result, not only is the safety of the patient endangered, but in the absence of proper sanitary precautions, the likelihood of contagion is greatly increased.

It must be understood, however, that the federal food and drug act applies only to products which are shipped in interstate commerce, that is, from one state to another, or which are offered for import or export, or which are manufactured or sold within a territory or the District of Columbia. Products which are made and consumed wholly within a single state are subject only to such state laws as may apply and are under the control only of state health officials. The federal law does not apply, for instance, to patent medicines made within the state of New York and sold in New York City. Persons buying or using a "remedy" made in their own state, therefore, must rely on the protection accorded them by their local health authorities.

WILLIS ADOPTS BELT, PINES FOR GALLUSES

COLUMBUS, July 29.—For the first time since he was inaugurated as chief executive of Ohio, Governor Willis has no public positions to hand out. "Every vacancy which the governor can fill has been filled," said the governor. "I haven't one blessed appointment in the state service to hand out now, thank goodness."

The governor has just purchased his first belt, size 48, although he really need a 50-inch. The reason he didn't buy the larger size was because the Columbus stores did not have it in stock. "It is too hot for galluses," declared the governor. "Forty years of suspenders make a man nervous when it comes to trusting trousers to a mere belt. It makes me sweat to get up suddenly and miss the reassuring pull of galluses on my shoulders."

Mrs. Edward Ford, residing north of Scott's Crossing, fell at her home yesterday and it is feared her left hip was broken. Mrs. Ford was just recovering from a siege of severe illness. She was removed to the city hospital this morning by the Williams and Davis company, where Dr. William Roush made an X-ray examination of the hip.

Mrs. Ford was taken home at once, after the examination. The injured limb was fractured by the fall and the examination was to test whether it was broken.

DITCH PETITION DISMISSED.

The application for improvements on the Jennings-Prairie ditch was dismissed yesterday afternoon in Van Wert, after a joint session of the Allen and Van Wert county commissioners. Van Wert refused to extend the ditch removing a bed of stone and Allen county favored this project. The petition for the ditch was therefore dismissed.

For Senator

Thomas M. Berry

The greatest boon that could be offered this senatorial district at the present time would be the nomination and election of Hon. Thomas M. Berry to that position. Mr. Berry moved to Spencerville twelve years ago this June. Twelve years he has been an active worker in everything that would be of benefit to the community and on many occasions he demonstrated his honesty of purpose and his integrity even though he was compelled to make a sacrifice. His first move upon locating here was to enter the hardware business, at the same time taking an active part in supporting clean politics and was every inch the kind of a man that any community is proud to own. He always believed in better roads at less expense, better drainage and better ditches. Mr. Berry, while a successful farmer and business man, is a strong supporter of the schools and has been secretary for the local board for many years, working ardently for a change in the laws that would give to all the districts in the state the necessary funds to carry the school work along successful lines. He firmly believes in a revision of these laws which will remove the handicap that is experienced by this state and give to the schools sufficient funds. If the voters of the entire district knew Mr. Berry as we know him he would secure a unanimous compliment in the race for Senator. His honest activity along all lines should be recognized. For strict attention to duty, constant attendance and a practical knowledge of legislation, affecting the interests of the people, Hon. Thomas M. Berry, of this county, stood in the front ranks of Ohio legislators of recent years. The impress of his work is found on the statutes enacted into laws since he entered the senate as a member of the seventy-sixth general assembly in 1904, and he was a factor in the legislation of his time. Honest and conscientious, with a rare grasp of affairs, Senator Berry was considered one of the ablest members of the two deliberate bodies in which he served. Hon. Thomas M. Berry was born on a farm in Jennings township, Van Wert county, July 29, 1859. His father, Joseph Berry, was a native of Champaign county, and died in 1892. His mother, nee Mary Jane Fitzpatrick, was a native of New York, and came to Ohio with her parents and settled in Auglaize county. She was of Irish descent. The senator's paternal ancestors were of German descent. The senator was educated in the common schools in the district where he was born, and worked on the farm until 1897, when he assumed the duties of Auditor of Van Wert county, having been elected the previous fall. He was re-elected and served six years. He served as member of the board of education, constable and township clerk in the township of his birth, and still owns the home farm, and which he has improved until it is one of the best farms in the west section of this community. He was nominated and elected on the Democratic ticket to the Ohio Senate from the 32nd district in 1903 and re-elected in 1905, without opposition in both campaigns. He was particularly active and interested in the county salary bill that became a law in 1906 and served as chairman of the committee on Fees and Salaries, and member of Finance, Roads and Highways, Agriculture, County Affairs, Drainage and Irrigation and Taxation committees. Senator Berry was also a member of the Insurance Commission that codified the laws relating to life insurance companies, that became laws during the second session of the 77th assembly. He also served on the Cincinnati Investigating committee along with Congressman Joshua E. Russell, who was senator at that time. Every voter is familiar with the duties of that committee when they were sent to that city to investigate the actions of Geo. B. Cox, who was the political boss of Cincinnati at that time. We can recommend the Hon. Thomas M. Berry to the voters as a man worthy of their support, knowing that their confidence will not be misplaced, because he has been tried and found to be true in every sense that the word implies.—Editorial from the Spencerville Journal-News of the issue of June 1, 1916.—Adv.

WOMAN DETECTIVE UNEARTH'S SWINDLE FULL OF PATHOS

Female Sleuths Busy With Cases Where Credulous
Are Victimized.

Stories of Their Activities
Are Stranger Than Fiction Tales.

By Frederic J. Haskin.
NEW YORK, N. Y., July 29.—Not long ago there appeared the advertisement of a certain remarkable professor, who for the sum of one dollar agreed to tell people the occupations best fitted to them, to remove all evil influences and to reveal the names of their enemies. This advertisement was carefully clipped from the papers by a small, dark-haired woman with hazel eyes in a downtown office and pasted on a large book which stood on the top of a roll-top desk, after which she noted an address on a tiny leather notebook. At the same time, in another section of the city, an immigrant woman who was the proud proprietor of a small grocery, clipped the same advertisement from the paper and stuffed it hurriedly into her handbag as her husband came into the store on the way to his morning's work.

A month later the immigrant woman was shown into the downtown office of the city's detective headquarters and introduced by the inspector to Mrs. Isabella Goodwin, detective, a small, dark-haired woman with keen hazel eyes. Seated in a small straight-backed chair the immigrant woman told the story of a swindle the pathos of which was not lost in its revelation of ignorance and superstition. The woman detective sat silent, occasionally taking notes and asking questions when the thread of the story became difficult to follow.

The immigrant woman and her husband had been admitted at Ellis Island five years before. The husband, who was by trade a marble-rubber, had secured a place in a small town in Pennsylvania, where he had been paid ten dollars a week. For this he polished marble under water, which, in winter, when there was ice, caused his feet to crack open and bleed; and his wife kept house. After a year of this they had accumulated money enough to take them to New York where the husband obtained a job at twenty-five dollars a week. This was, indeed, a luxurious salary, but instead of increasing their standard of living, the immigrant woman still lived as frugally as possible and saved money.

When they had fifteen hundred dollars in bank, they bought a grocery store, while the husband still kept on with his work. The business was profitable, and soon the immigrant woman found she had paid the small mortgage on the store and had thirty-five hundred dollars in bank. She was just on the verge of buying a chicken farm, selling her store and moving into the country, when the professor's alluring advertisement attracted her attention and she determined to seek his advice.

For the sum of twenty-five dollars the professor removed an evil influence which was hovering over the immigrant woman, told the names of several remote persons who were jealous of her, and advised her not to buy the chicken farm! Instead, he explained, she should by all means invest her money in stocks, as the stars showed that this would be her most successful line, and he related numerous instances of individuals who had invested in various stocks under his direction, who were now riding in motor cars and sending their children to college.

The woman had finally been convinced, and she resolved to mortgage the grocery store to obtain more money for investment so that in the end she could surprise her husband with the enormous returns of her thrift. For this money the professor presented her with impressive looking documents bearing gold seals, describing mining stocks which had never been heard of by anyone but the professor. Then suddenly and inconspicuously, the professor left town. The rest was up to Mrs. Isabella Goodwin, woman detective.

In order that the professor might not learn that this police were on the case, Mrs. Goodwin disguised herself as a maid and entered the employ of neighbors of the professor. She then discovered that the professor had employed a doctor constantly while in the city, and finally obtained the name of the doctor. Here she found that the professor had been suffering from cancer of the stomach, in which case he could not have gotten far away. His plan would be to stick to the large cities, where there were specialists and plenty of medicine. Mrs. Goodwin objects to the publication of some of her methods in detecting and capturing a criminal, since in her profession the penetration of a disguise or makeup and the discovery of the crook that he is being pursued may mean the absolute failure of a case and possibly a cut throat. It is, therefore, merely necessary to say that a week later the professor was apprehended and subsequently died in prison. As for the victims of the swindle, although they lost the greater part of their savings, they are recovering rapidly and are now on the road to wealth again. Mrs. Goodwin considers this one of the most interesting cases in her career on the New York detective force, perhaps because of its human elements. For despite her facility in handling people over to the law, Mrs. Goodwin is a humanitarian. Twenty years ago she herself felt the pinch of adversity when she was left with four children to support. She secured a position as police matron, but her natural ability for detective work was soon evidenced and she was given her first case. In New York it is illegal to gamble on horse races. Of course, there are races, and it is well known that individuals bet on them, but no organized bookmaking and gambling is permitted. Hence when it became known at headquarters that a number of women were meeting in the back room of a liquor store for the purpose of placing money on the races, a woman detective was required to get the evidence. Mrs. Goodwin became a regular member of the meetings, where no one suspected her profession, and finally turned the whole establishment over to the police.

The majority of cases handled by woman detectives in New York deal with petty swindles, such as the arrest of alleged physicians practicing without certificates, fortune tellers, mediums, small thieves, etc., which are of a less dangerous order. For most of the larger crimes, dealing with murders, thefts, blackmail, kidnapping and smuggling men are used. It is estimated that nearly 95 per cent of the crimes committed in New York are the work of foreigners, and for this reason it is necessary to maintain men of several nationalities on the detective staff. For example, almost every kidnapping case is perpetrated by Italians against their own people in this country, so that it is necessary to have an Italian detective handle the affair. If a German is the principal factor in a case, then a German detective covers it, and the same is true of Spaniards, Norwegians, Swedes and every other nationality. Women are employed to obtain evidence in offices, boarding houses and apartments, but when there is grave and apparent danger connected with the case it is given to a man.

THE LOGICAL HAR-MONY CANDIDATE.

Any one who will carefully study the situation in the Democratic party in the Fourth district, cannot very well come to any other conclusion than that L. M. Studevant is the logical man to select among the candidates who are submitting their names to the voters of the party for nomination for Congress. Mr. Studevant has always been a worker in the ranks of the party and never before came before the people asking for political preferment. He is a man of clean habits, clear judgment, very industrious and capable of doing a large amount of business. In his extensive business relations with other men for the past thirty years no man has had any reasonable cause to complain of him. He has as clean a business record as any man in the district. He is a man of positive character and is a persistent fighter for what he believes to be the right thing. No man will ever find him dodging an issue, or avoiding a responsibility. He may not make as much noise about it as some others, but when the time for action comes he will be there. He is the man who believes in doing things.

We repeat he is the logical candidate for the Democrats of the district to nominate. Why? Because he is the equal of any of his competitors in qualification and experience. He is a worker for the people and his party, either in the county or district politics. He is not the candidate of any faction in the district, or outside of it. He is not the substitute or proxy candidate of any many or combination anywhere. His nomination would remove all factional differences, real or imaginary, that have sprung up in the district and would give to the Democratic party such a leadership as is necessary at the present time and bring back to the Democratic party in the district the good Democratic record which it so long held in Ohio.

—Sidney Daily News. Adv.

Mrs. Goodwin was called to cover the case, she was agreeably surprised, since it was her ambition to work on bigger things. A bank clerk and a messenger, carrying a bag containing twenty-five thousand dollars in a taxicab, were attacked and the money taken away from them. A glimpse of a disappearing taxicab speeding in the other direction was the only clue turned in at detective headquarters. The detective authorities, however, had occasion to suspect two men of the theft—men who were already well known and much desired at headquarters for various other crimes. It was also known that these men frequented a boarding house in a downtown street, where they planned their crimes with two women of equally desperate character. It became Mrs. Goodwin's task, therefore, to gain access to this boarding house and to secure evidence that these men had committed the taxicab crime.

Dressed in untidy clothes, with her hair screwed in a knot and speaking with an unmistakable Irish brogue, she obtained employment in the boarding house as a maid. Seeing in the new maid nothing but a slovenly, good-natured Irish woman of incredible stupidity, the women in the case allowed her to enter their room, run errands for them, and otherwise gain all the necessary evidence to convict the four of them. The detective came out of this house, however, with a well developed case of nerves, since it was inhabited by crooks of the most dangerous sort who, if they had once suspected her mission, would have immediately killed her. Afraid to sleep at night when her disguise might be discovered, Mrs. Goodwin kept awake by drinking great quantities of black coffee, and relieved the nervous tedium by planning where to send her daughter to school.

For her valuable assistance in this case, she was made detective-sergeant, and her future as a woman detective was assured. She can probably tell you more about the underworld than any other woman in New York, with all its horrors, its peculiar social strata, and its occasional elements of pathos. There is one popular fallacy, which the New York detective force would fain correct, and that is the assertion as to there being honor among thieves. They do believe that there is a single crook who will not turn state's evidence against another to save himself.

There are now five women detectives on the New York detective staff, and they have had exceptionally few failures. The profession is gradually widening for women. The only difficulty in securing the feminine force, lies in the fact that it takes a woman of stony forbearance and an unusual appreciation of the public good not to feel sorry for the average crook and let him go, with several suggestions for leading a better and a nobler life.

WILSON WORKS FOR COMPLETE DEFENSE

Tells of Ideal Preparedness in Letter to National Research Council.

WASHINGTON, July 29.—In making public a letter from President Wilson acknowledging receipt of a preliminary report of the new national research council, the White House issued a statement calling attention to the fact that preparedness does not consist merely of enlargement of the army and navy, and that the president has given his support unreservedly to measures looking for the co-operation of production, transportation and industry.

The statement follows: "The president has given his unreserved endorsement to certain measures, not directly related to army and navy expansion, which are being taken in behalf of national preparedness. Preparedness does not consist merely in the enlargement of the army and navy, but necessitates co-ordination in production, transportation and industry.

"A provision of the army appropriation bill for a council of national defense is designed to meet this requirement. This council will consist of the secretary of state, the secretary of war, the secretary of navy, the chief of staff of the army, an officer of the navy or the rank of captain, or higher rank, and six persons to be appointed by the president, who shall be authorities on questions relating to public utilities, industry or natural resources.

"Preparedness, to be sound and complete, must be solidly based on science. In realization of this fact, the president some time ago requested the National Academy of Science to form the National Research Council. That body has been formed and has made a preliminary report, in regard to which the president has written the following letter to Dr. William H. Welsh of Johns Hopkins university:

"My Dear Mr. Welsh: "I want to tell you with what gratification I have received the preliminary report of the National Research Council which was formed at my request under the National Academy of Science.

"May I not take this occasion to say that the departments of government are ready to co-operate in every way that may be required and that heads of the departments most immediately concerned are not at my request actively engaged in considering the best methods of co-operation? Representatives of government bureaus will be appointed as members of the research council as the council desires.

"Cordially and sincerely yours,

WOODROW WILSON."

TWO YEARS OF WAR

During the next week the European war will start on the third year. The fact that an anniversary of the outbreak of hostilities is at hand naturally leads the observer to pause and survey the wreck of civilization, estimating what has been done and undone in two solar cycles.

Because of a dozen little causes for friction, including racial prejudice, religious fanaticism, personal ambition and the ever-present motive of commercial supremacy, one-half of the world is now under arms. Unfortunately this is not an all-Christian mixup—Allah and Buddha are in on it, too.

The flower of the manhood of Europe has been cut off. Instead of a nation of strong, virile, healthy, vigorous young men, fit fathers for the coming generation, each belligerent nation has a long rank of cripples, blind men, some driven insane by the horrors of the sufferings, others deaf. Most of them are wrecked in nerves if not in body. Franz-Josef Hapsburg, Bill Hohenzollern, Nick Romanoff, Ed Guepfiel, Raymond Poincare and Emmanuel Savoy have not yet been reported on the injured list, although the crown prince of Germany has been killed a few dozen times.

The wealth of the belligerent nations has been poured into the coffers of the vendors of supplies—all that hasn't been destroyed. The factories which formerly turned out useful articles of daily life are making shells with feverish haste. Women who formerly graced homes where happy children played now roll bandages while their little ones stand for hours in the long food line, waiting to have a ticket punched for a loaf of bread.

Monuments of civilization older than any of the nations at war have been shattered by the powerful explosions of mighty projectiles. Cathedrals which were six centuries in the building have been shattered into ruins by six minutes cannonading. Beautiful edifices on which great masters wrought, with stained-glass windows and frescoed walls, invaluable paintings and sculptured friezes, now display the crude workmanship of the modern chisel. A 42 cm steel cylinder-cannal tool of the genius of destruction.

Providence appears to have a happy manner of balancing good for evil. There are eras in history when it seems that catastrophes work for the betterment of the sufferers. Europe will know a little more about war and display a little more common sense after this one. There won't be so much blind loyalty to a hereditary monarch who may be lacking in a balance wheel. In Vienna there is a daddling old simpleton in second childhood, in Berlin a crazy count inspired with dreams of world domination, in Petrograd a weak neurotic and in London a scheming premier—the rest are followers, not leaders. They have unlearned something they would give much to have avoided.

The war has brought France a vindication. Her virility is now admired where before her degeneracy was proclaimed. Germany's supremacy in science, as displayed by the ingenious applications of chemistry to warfare, holds the attention of all observers. Russia's tenacity and ability to come back, and Belgium's fortitude in the face of torture—Americans now have a new idea of Europe. The war has brought to France new nationalism, and her patriotic defense will go down in history as comparable to Holland's overthrow of Spain. England and Germany, possibly stagnant Austria, have come to realize the folly of nobility.

But from this side, looking it over, aren't you glad there's a president at Washington who is moderate instead of radical, patient instead of bellicose, peaceful instead of militant? Hughes' adherents sneer at the idea of sending notes—but they don't dare to advocate the only alternative, war.

THAT WILLIS LIE

The state of Ohio is to purchase the big Wyandotte building on West Broad street, Columbus, to house the state commissions too numerous to find room in the statehouse. It will cost the taxpayers of the state about $5,000,000.

The fact that Ohio needs one man-size skyscraper to house the commissions which form a part of the machinery of government recalls the fact that in 1914 one Francis Bartlett Willis, then a member of congress from the Eighth district, set forth from Ada one morning to peddle a campaign lie about the state. "Too many useless commissions," became the stenorian cry of Francis. The Cox administration was accused of establishing commissions right and left for the mere purpose of finding jobs for Finley's friends.

Those commissions which Willis held to be so useless have all been retained by him—with Republicans on the membership list. Not one commission has been found with which the state could dispense. And in the purchase of the Wyandotte building, as a home for the overflow of the state house, the G. O. P. heavyweight silently confesses guilt. The new acquisition is a monument to a campaign lie.

Will Mr. Hughes explain, if American prosperity is a star nation product, why bank deposits in North Dakota and South Dakota since 1912 have grown 50 per cent, while Delaware, where the Du Pont powder works are located, is the only state in the Union showing a decrease of bank deposits in the past four years?

The greatest volume of textile exports under the Republican Payne-Aldrich tariff, in 1913, was $60,000,000. Under the free wool schedule of the present Democratic (Underwood) law, exports of woolen goods alone rose from $1,000,000 to $34,000,000, while total textile exports exceeded $110,000,000.

A headline in a contemporary states that the Russians have taken Bredy. We always knew Steve was famous, but we never supposed Europe has named a city after him.

The state-wide primary has done one good thing—the public gets more literature to read, in the form of candidates' cards.

Temperature isn't to blame, says science—it's humidity. If Mr. Midway gets to Lima it will go hard with Hugh.

Does It Pay to Be Neighborly
A Kindly Word Will Sometimes Accomplish Wonders.

By Beatrice Fairfax.
IF YOU live for the people who have lived for two years in a great apartment house and have no idea who occupies the floor above them, the floor below them, perhaps even the apartment across the hall?

Nowadays very few people are friends with the "folks next door." The kindly little word in which people shared the joys and sorrows of the neighborhood has grown from simple town ways to over dignified city ones.

Down in the village from which your grandmother came you shared whatever of good or ill came to the people in the houses around and, incidentally, their butter, or eggs, when you happened to run short, and there was a great deal of happy warmth in hearts and manners.

City life has changed all this. Now you don't know anybody until you've been introduced, and unless you want to lose your social position, you put on your hat and gloves when you are going to stop around the corner.

The chilly, stiff, staring attitude of the average fashionable street in a big city is calculated to make a newcomer want to emigrate back to the country or even to the swarming slums where everybody knows everybody else.

There can be nothing more disheartening than the chilly state of things which meets the family coming in to the city from some warm little village of ten thousand gossip, inquisitive, but altogether neighborly and friendly people.

A Lofly Dignity.

Sitting in lonely, lofty dignity and ignoring all the pleasant people about you seems to be considered quite the correct thing in the city. It isn't correct—it's only dreary and foolish and stodgy and altogether absurd.

Dotted all over our land there are villages where the kindly country ways are still enforced. There people drop into each other's houses at all hours of the day and night in the happy fashion of genuine friends. No one is ever too busy or too cold, bloodlessly absorbed in his own affairs and his search for money and position to refuse a life to a neighbor who needs help over a rough place or sympathy with some one who is bursting with good news he just has to tell.

One of the tragedies of city life is that far too many of us have learned to be cruelly suspicious of people we don't know, and so are afraid to give the benefit of the doubt to folk about whom we have not an absolute written guarantee of respectability.

A few years ago in the middle west men used to boast that they always believed a man honest unless he proved himself a thief. But in the big cities the rule seems to be to believe people thieves until they prove themselves honest! Can't we recover some of the old neighborliness of heart and spirit which will make it possible for us to give a friendly greeting to the people who live about us? Can't we learn to feel that the joys and sorrows, the hopes and fears, and the moments great and small, of those who have been brought close to us in the congestion of city life are really close to our hearts too?

So many of us fear to be neighborly. We imagine our kindly motives will be questioned and our friendly impulses put down to all sorts of self-seeking, cold-blooded, mercenary or otherwise evil intentions.

Everyone in the world is more or less lonely—looking and looking for understanding and sympathy. Can't we bring a little of the neighborliness of the country into our city life?

WHEN HER BACK ACHES

A Woman Finds All Her Energy and Ambition Slipping Away.
Lima women know how the aches and pains that often come when the kidneys fail make life a burden. Backache, hip pains, headaches, dizziness, spells, distressing urinary troubles, are frequent indications of weak kidneys and should be checked in time. Doan's Kidney Pills are for the kidneys only. They attack kidney diseases by striking at the cause. Here's proof of their merit in a Lima woman's words:

Mrs. Mary Purcell, 421 E. Findlay St., Lima, says: "At times I get a dull ache across the small of my back and it lays me out completely. At such times I can't work or rest well in any position. Short use of Doan's Kidney Pills always drives away the trouble."

BRICKS FROM LAVA.

Some progressive Americans have formed a company which is to erect a brick plant near enough to an active volcano in Hawaii to utilize the hot lava in the manufacture of brick. The lava deposits in the Hawaiian Islands have been used for building purposes for a number of years but as they break easily it is difficult to cut them into the desired shapes. It is proposed to construct a plant to which a supply of hot lava from the pit of the volcano can be brought in by an endless chain of buckets. The hot lava can be poured into brick forms thus taking the size and shape desired.

FOR JUDGE OF COURT OF APPEALS.

X Benjamin Meck

Benjamin Meck is a candidate for Judge of the Court of Appeals (short term). He was a candidate for this office six years ago and was then next to the highest among four candidates. At that time he received the solid support of Crawford county, where he was born and raised, and where he now resides. Mr. Meck is a German and speaks that language. This judicial district is composed of sixteen counties and in it it would be only just and fair to these German people to have at least one of the three judges of this court who could understand and speak their language. Mr. Meck is the only one of the six candidates for this office who understands and speaks the German language. Vote for Mr. Meck on August 8th, 1916.

HEALTHHINTS
HINTS FOR AID TO THE BABY IF HE IS BURNED.

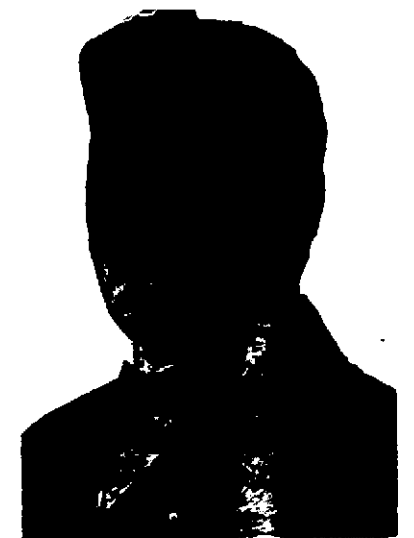

Nothing is more terrifying to a mother than an accident to her baby. Too frequently she becomes panic-stricken and does the wrong thing. The commonest of accidents to a baby in the home is burning or scalding.

If baby's flimsy clothing catches fire the first impulse of a mother is to run to a neighbor for aid. She should grab a heavy coat or blanket or even a rug and quickly wrap the infant in it.

This will exclude the air. Without air fire cannot burn. The remedy in case of burn must also be of such nature as will exclude air from the hurt and thus ease the pain.

A mixture of equal parts of lime water and raw linseed oil is excellent for this purpose. Apply it by soaking pieces of gauze in it and applying them immediately to the burned parts. Cover all the burned spots with the oil-soaked gauze and then bind carefully with bandages.

Always read the Times-Democrat want column—you can always find what you want.

At the meeting of the executive committee of the Pioneer Picnic association, last night, it was decided to hold the twenty-second annual picnic of the association at the Crites grove, one mile east of Elida, on Thursday, August 10.

According to the committee in charge of arrangements the program being arranged will be one of the most elaborate ever attempted. Speakers of importance from the state will be present and take active part in the program.

From present indications it is evident that the attendance this year will eclipse all former records for this yearly event. Preparations are being made to take care of thousands of visitors from Allen and surrounding counties.

The address of welcome will be made by Rev. O. E. Smith, of Cincinnati, and Rev. A. W. Denlinger will respond. The main address of the day will be delivered by Rev. Fuller, of Lima. N. W. Cunningham, first vice-president, will preside at the meeting in the place of the late C. B. Steman, of Van Wert, who was president of the association.

BIBLE PRICES ADVANCED FROM 25 TO 100 PER CENT

Bibles have been advanced in price from 25 per cent to 100 per cent by the American Bible society. In a formal statement issued the increased cost of paper, ink and other materials used is given as the cause of the advance in prices.

While the society manufactures the Bibles it distributes, it is a missionary organization and has no purpose of profit in its transactions. Practically all the evangelistic denominations contribute toward the free distribution of the scriptures through the society.

It circulates in the United States scriptures in ninety languages and in foreign countries approximately 100 languages. Among the more than 2,500,000 copies distributed in a year more than 2,000 volumes were raised letter Bibles for the blind.

Hot Water and "ANURIC" Before Meals--and Health

All people in America and especially those who are past middle age are prone to eat too much meat and in consequence deposit lime salts in their arteries, veins and joints. They often suffer from twinges of rheumatism or lumbago, sometimes from gout, swollen hands or feet. Such people are not able to exercise sufficiently in the outdoor air or drink enough pure water in order to sweat freely and excrete impurities through the skin. Dr. Pierce has conducted experiments and thoroughly tested uric acid solvent at his Invalid's Hotel and Surgical Institute which he is convinced is many times more potent than lithia--this he named "Anuric." It can be had at almost all drug stores by simply asking for Dr. Pierce's Anuric for kidneys or backache. It will overcome such conditions as rheumatism, dropsical swellings, cold extremities, scalding and burning urines and sleeplessness due to constant need of getting out of bed at night.

Our grandmothers have told our mothers and our mothers have in turn instructed us that in case of sickness, resort to Dr. Pierce's dependable household prescriptions. These medicines as put up for sale by druggists have never been recommended as "cure-alls," but only as superior remedies for certain common and easily-recognized diseases. Had these medicines been adopted to all classes and forms of chronic diseases there would have been no necessity for organizing a competent staff of expert physicians and surgeons, to act in the treatment of difficult, obscure and complicated cases of chronic diseases.

Dr. Pierce maintains in his Invalid's Hotel and Surgical Institute. Of his home remedies the most widely known are his "Favorite Prescription" for womanly troubles and run-down conditions peculiar to the womanly sex; his "Golden Medical Discovery," the greatest of all herb-als system tonics and vitalizers, for stomach, liver and blood disorders, as well as his "Pleasant Pellets," the tiny, tonic laxatives, overcoming constipation and cleansing the system of poisons and accumulations in the bowels.

PARKE'S HAIR BALM
A solid preparation of health helps to eradicate dandruff. For itching scalp and itching hair. Sold by all druggists.

Cities of Our Class

The following cities are in the same class with Lima. The cities just above us in the last census, six years ago, were, in order, Hamilton, Springfield, Canton and Akron. The three just below us are Lorain, Newark and Portsmouth. These are the cities of our class. It should be noted from the school attendance that we are now much larger than Hamilton. Note that while all the other cities have spent large amounts, even millions, for their schools, we have a school indebtedness of only $161,700, the lowest in this class of cities. But the other cities have up-to-date high schools and grade buildings with auditoriums and gymnasiums. Lima has never had either. Akron has three high schools, in each of which is an auditorium seating 1,100 people, used for school and community center purposes. Canton is now building a high school costing over a half million dollars, with splendid auditorium and gymnasium. Hamilton is planning to build. Portsmouth has recently completed one of the best high schools in cities of her size. The State finds that the high schools in all these cities, except Lima, are adequate. It reports "Lima High School is overcrowded to approximately twice its capacity. Six of her twelve grade schools are overcrowded." If you will compare the growth of these cities and their present school indebtedness, you will understand why Lima's schools are overcrowded:—

The Week In Society

MARIE N. NAGLE

IT'S NEVER too warm to dance, when there are pretty girls, good music and attractive surroundings. Such was the case last night, when the Strollers gave the prettiest dance ever given at McBeth's park. The dance hall was decorated with streamers of the club colors, cardinal and black, and the orchestra under the direction of Branson Harley Holmes was concealed by a bank of palms and ferns. BETTER THAN SPANKING. Spanking does not cure children of bedwetting. There is a constitutional cause for this trouble. Mrs. M. Summers, Box W, Notre Dame, Ind., will send free to any mother her successful home treatment, with full instructions. Send no money, but write her today if your children trouble you in this way. Don't blame the child, the chances are it can't help it. This treatment also cures adults and aged people troubled with urine difficulties by day or night.

MARRYING A BUTTERFLY

By MRS. EVA LEONARD Y

In Which It is Shown That Ethel Really Can Cook When She Tries. "HOW DO you like the muffins?" asked Ethel as Ralph broke open and buttered the flaky golden brown beauties.

"Never ate better," was the laconic answer. "I made them." Ethel swelled with conscious pride. "What?"

"They are my first baking," Ethel was thoroughly enjoying his surprise. "Why, darling, I am delighted. I always said you would be an excellent cook if you only would try." Ralph was determined to make the most of this good beginning.

"I was over at Mrs. Morton's this morning telling her about giving notice to the maid. I said I did not know where I could get another one and she proposed that I begin to learn to cook that very minute so I could be independent of the whole tribe. She told me what to do and I made a double recipe of muffins and both families are eating my baking." Ralph rose and walking around her chair took her face between his hands.

"You can't tell how pleased I am. All our difficulties will straighten out if you will only try to be a good housekeeper." He kissed the pleased little woman and returned to his seat. Every crumb of the muffins disappeared and Ethel felt that she had covered herself with glory.

"I am going over there every day to learn to do something," announced the young cook in the first flush of her enthusiasm.

PORTSMOUTH, O., July 29.—Thousands of dollars damage to corn and tobacco crops and destruction of numerous farm buildings was found to have been done by a miniature cyclone which passed over the Buena Vista and Wheelersburg districts. The crops were rolled flat under the pressure of the wind. A truck of the storm was to pick up a wagon from a farmyard near Buena Vista, carrying it several hundred feet and drop it into a bank building. No one was injured.

THE FAUROT'S PICTURES.

Today Only—"The Spider," an extraordinary Paramount picture produced by the Famous Players Film company, gives Pauline Frederick an unusual opportunity for the display of her amazing talents, as the subjects presents her in two diversely opposite roles, Valerie St. Cyr, a notorious Parisian beauty, and her deserted daughter Joan. In the impersonation of these dual but distinct characters, the superb emotional artist performs miracles of character interpretation and of dramatic portrayal. The tremendous power of Miss Frederick's art and the wide range of her screen capabilities were never so fully illustrated as in her compelling delineation of this unique emotional drama.

Sunday and Monday—Blanche Sweet in "The Dupe," is the story of a young girl who comes to New York seeking a position and is engaged as secretary to Mrs. Strong, a wealthy society woman. Mrs. Strong is involved in a love affair with a young millionaire, Jimmy Regan, who has flirted with her merely as a pastime. She however, believing he is in love with her, is anxious to secure a divorce from her husband, but can find no cause. Jimmy meets the young secretary and attracted by her sweet, simple manner falls in love with her. He feels that he must have an understanding with Mrs. Strong before he asks Ethel to marry him. Mrs. Strong gives an entertainment, and Ethel who is anxious to look her best before Jimmy and who's simple clothes are old fashioned, takes money belonging to Mrs. Strong to buy a new dress. The theft is discovered. The girl promises to work until she pays back the money. Mrs. Strong conceives that Ethel can be used to help her get a divorce, by being caught dining alone with her husband. The events following form an exciting climax to this interesting story. Also a new Bray Cartoon comedy, "Bobby Bumps Fly Swatter," and the latest Pathe News.

Tuesday and Wednesday—Donald Brian in "The Smugglers." It is a farce comedy starring Donald Brian who has already appeared on the Paramount program under the Lasky management. Sidney Olcott, who has supervised the production of this comedy, has carried out the laughable qualities of the plot with a perfectly balanced judgment and artistic conception of relative value.

The story contains a long series of complicated events, each having a wealth of rich, wholesome humor from New York, the story continues on to London and Paris, gaining momentum as it progresses geographically, until the journey is retraced, finally winding up in a grand climax in New York harbor.

In addition, Burton Holmes' Travel Pictures, "Beautiful Bavaria," and the latest addition of the Pathe News.

Thursday and Friday—Lionel Barrymore and Grace Valentine in "Dorian's Divorce," deals with the devotion of Dorian Keene, a doting young husband, who is determined to give his wife happiness even if it is necessary to do so he will grant her a divorce. While the details for their separation are being arranged, his wife's godfather confesses that he has misappropriated much of her fortune. Believing his wife guilty of the crime, Dorian resumes the responsibility for it and disappears. He is believed to be dead, but instead eludes out a precarious existence along the New York water front, intending to take a ship to Europe. How he signs as a stoker on a yacht, that had formerly belonged to him, but which is then owned by the man chiefly responsible for his wife's dissatisfaction with her lot and how he uncovers a gigantic smuggling plot in which his rival is deeply concerned, at the same time his own name is cleared and his wife's love for him re-awakened, all form a highly dramatic story, which is bound to have a supreme appeal to every one who views it.

Also Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Drew in a new comedy, and Nature Studies in Pathe color.

AT THE STAR.

Today—Harry Carey and Olive Fuller Golden in "For the Love of a Girl." Harry Carey and the wild west are like old comrades. In this play Carey performs many feats never before seen in any films. In one place he leaps from a horse and drags a man from another horse. At another time, when he is about to be hung, he swings like a pendulum on the rope and drops into the middle of the stream. These are but a few of the thrills of the picture "I've Got Yer Number," a hilarious Joker comedy with Wm. Franey and Gale Henry producing the laughs. Then the famous Goldberg cartoons, with added comedies complete a program of the highest quality.

Sunday—"The Latest in Vampires," a two-reel Victor comedy with Harry Myers and Rosemary Theby. "Mutiny," Imp drama with Albert MacQuarrie, Jack Holt and Lucille Younger. Also Goldberg cartoons and added comedies.

MINSTREL COMING TO ORPHEUM

"Something new under the sun" new to this generation, if not to the old. That something is "Japland," an operatic minstrel farce comedy that employs the joint services of John W. Vogel's big minstrels, a remarkable cast of comic opera principals and a pleasing chorus of beautiful Geisha girls. It is a minstrel show, girl show, opera and extravaganza combined, the book calling for a modern minstrel first part, which, in this instance, is one of the merry features of the performances. Instead of the long drawn-out affair sometimes seen in straight minstrelsy. There are the regulation ten men, of course, ten of them, in fact, but they are human beings instead of automatons, their work, songs and patter being a part of the book of "Japland," or the Cardon of the Mikado.

The background, as the title suggests is oriental, Japan being the picturesque country for the action. That fact allowing great scope for wonderful scenic investiture and sartorial elegance, both of which are presented in an extraordinary lavish manner and absolutely correct as to detail. The huge company numbers, 52 persons and carries its own double symphony orchestra and solo concert band, a noonday parade with several novelties being scheduled for one day only, Tuesday, August 8, matinee and night, the date on which Mr. Vogel's allied forces will be seen and heard at the Orpheum theater.

IF YOU WANT QUICK RELIEF.

Men and women who feel their health failing because of weak, overworked or disordered kidneys will be pleased to know that Foley Kidney Pills are prompt in action and give quick results in the relief of rheumatism, sore muscles, aching joints, backache, pains in side, and sleep disturbing bladder troubles. H. F. Vortkamp. tu-thu-sat

STRAWBERRY CENSUS.

FRANKFORT, Ky., July 29.—Commissioner of Agriculture Cohen has made a compilation of the reports received with reference to the number of acres of strawberries in Kentucky, and announced that there are 3,226 acres in strawberry plants in this state. Warren county leads this industry, with 1,300 acres. Campbell county and Jefferson county each have 150 acres and McCracken county has 140 acres.

WHOSE LITTLE GIRL IS "THE LITTLE GIRL NEXT DOOR?"

A want ad in the Times-Democrat will bring quick results.

With elephants to ride upon, camels and ponies, too, Gentry Brothers' Famous Shows, with all four exhibitions of former successful years, combined into one splendid circus enterprise, are coming to Lima on Monday, Aug. 7, to exhibit at Main and Murphy streets. This is why the children of Lima are so happy of late, and it is also why father and mother and big sister and big brother are seen smiling to themselves now and then, for it is an ever to be remembered day in happyland, when "The Gentrys Come to Town".

And where is there a boy or girl, who does not thrill at the prospect of a ride on Pinto, the pet baby performing elephant, or on other pets of the celebrated herd of pachyderms, or on the camels or on one of the two hundred odd cunning pony actors.

All these things are in store for the kiddies when the big white tents are raised and the bands play, the banners whip the breeze and the calliope chant. For their elders, a wealth of animal, aerial and novelty acts of the highest standards are provided by the four fold greater Gentry Brothers show.

TIME Is Always Precious

Napoleon held it more valuable than anything else.

Another hour before Waterloo would have turned the tide of history.

Because of that lost hour, the Corsican later on had plenty of time at St. Helena.

The importance of saving time has been theme for poets and philosophers since mer's day. The trend of centuries has been altered by the absence of modern means of communication. Science and invention have made the United States possible, by producing the means of communication by which the distant parts are knit as one.

The saving of time is best accomplished by the telephone. Distances which once required days to cover, are now bridged in a moment. But the essential factor in telephone communication is SERVICE.

Lima Telephone Service is Unexcelled

There are two dozen other plants in the United States which equal the Lima system for modern equipment and excellent service, but none better. The best outfits in the world are duplicated in this city. Experts from the Old World have visited us. Have you ever heard complaints about it?

The service factor must be considered in viewing the proposed condemnation of Lima's $950,000 plant for conversion into a municipal institution. Do you believe the present service would long remain the same in the hands of politics, with new heads and new employees with each change of administration? Is past experience a favorable testimonial to municipal ownership?

Decision Bouts Would Cause a Change In Plan

By FRANK G. MENKE.

NEW YORK, July 29.—Fred Wenck's plan to bring about decision bouts in the Empire state has struck a responsive chord in the bosoms of the majority of the fight fans. The public, bunched so long and so often by the no-decision fights, yearns for the day that will bring decision bouts; the time when fighters really will fight again.

Some few persons are opposing the radical reform which the chairman of the boxing commission wants to bring about. But an analysis of the protests shows that the bulk of them come from managers of fighters, who, naturally, would suffer a decrease in revenue if decisions were permitted.

"The fight game has come upon evil days since no-decision bouts have been the rule," declares Wenck. "Champions and near-champions have made a farce of fighting in New York state during the past few years by their stalling tactics. Boxing bouts have degenerated into little more than hugging matches."

"This is due almost entirely to the fact that no-decisions are rendered. In New York state now a champion cannot be dethroned unless by a knockout, a trick rather hard of accomplishment in 10 rounds. No matter how much an aspirant for the crown outpoints their champion he cannot win the title except with a sleep producing punch. Therefore, a champion rarely, if ever, fights on the offensive. His sole thought during the 10 rounds is to save himself from a knockout."

Decisions Would Reform Game. "But if decisions were permitted all would be changed. The champion would have to fight or lose his title. He wouldn't do any stalling then. He'd put forth the best that is in him and give the fans a run for their money."

"Ever since the no-decision rule has been in force the public which makes big purses possible for fighters has been cheated. It pays to see two men fight and usually only one of them does the work. The other—the champion or top-notch—doesn't risk a knockout punch. He keeps covering up all the time. What if he is beaten on points? That doesn't harm him much because he is protected from official defeat by the no-decision rule."

"I am advocating decisions in this state solely for the purpose of making fighters earn every dollar they get; with the idea of giving the fans 100 cents value for every dollar they pay at the gate. And I am going on with my fight for decision bouts to the absolute limit."

"Some of those persons who oppose me are making the absurd and malicious charge that decision bouts will kill the game. They hint that gamblers would reap a harvest by tampering with the referees and influencing them—with money—to 'throw' fights."

"Those who make such charges indict as crooked every man that is refereeing in New York state today. Such an indictment is a contemptible piece of business. Charley White, Billy Roche, Billy Joh and the others have been refereeing fights in New York state for many years. No smudge ever has come on their records, they are honest and square as any man living. No one could 'buy' their decision, yet the blanket indictment seems to cover them; these honest men are branded as probable crooks."

Most Foes Are Managers. "The majority of those who are fighting my plan are managers of fighters. No one has noticed the fans opposing me. They are with me. They know, as I do, what deplorable conditions have been brought about by no-decision bouts. They remember vividly the scores of times they have paid big prices to see a fight and then have been treated to joke contests."

"Why shouldn't some of the managers oppose me? Decision fights would end the soft picking for some of them. Those who are handling fighters who are fluke champions are loudest in their protests. Why? Simply because their men, if forced to fight decision battles, undoubtedly would be outpointed and thus lose the title. That would mean smaller purses for those fighters in the future, and, of course, smaller 'spits' for the managers."

"The fight game has fallen into a decay during these past few years. The men no longer battle as they used to. They get three and four times the money that the old timers did, but in return for it they do 10 rounds of fancy dancing, alternating with the latest approved hugs. And the public is bunched into paying big money for it."

"But if decisions are permitted by licensed referees of unquestioned honesty the fight game will come back; fighters will fight again and earn their money and the New York public will cease to be the goat, as it has been for so, these many years."

Deisel-Wemmer vs. Garford's.
First game called at 2 o'clock.

Industrial league fans looked forward to a battle royal at Murphy street park this afternoon, when the Locomotive and East Iron teams lined up for the first game at 2 o'clock.

As both of the clubs are tied for first place in the standing, each having won four and lost three games, the tie is bound to be broken. Both clubs predict a victory, but from dope it is evident that East Iron boys have the better chance.

The other game of the afternoon was played by the Garford's and Deisel-Wemmer clubs. The Stogies feel that they have a good chance to outplay the game with the return of Westby to the line-up. He is considered one of the best pitchers in the city.

The Cubs and Braves staged another thriller with the Braves again out in front.

HEINIE GROH SETS FAST PACE FOR OTHER REDS TO FOLLOW

HEINIE GROH

Heinie Groh, third baseman of the Reds, is one of the fastest men in the league. He is Cincinnati's lead off man and also an invaluable pace maker upon their offense if they would keep up with their third sacker.

Campi Wins

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., July 29.—Despite the fact that Eddie Campi of San Francisco and Johnny Coulton of Chicago, agreed to a decision before their scheduled four-round fight began, the referee ignored the agreement and instantly held up Campi's hand at the end of the battle, the local boy having led out in front all the way. Campi was two pounds over the required 118 pounds and Coulton, weighing but 110, would not go on unless the decision was agreed

Leonard Defeated By Welsh

NEW YORK, July 29.—Benny Leonard is a much disappointed lightweight aspirant today. He went into the bout with Freddie Welsh, the champion, last night and figured that he would have an easy time. He had already outpointed the champion in previous encounter.

Then came the awakening. The champion took the challenger by surprise. He came into the ring in fine fettle. He started right after his youthful opponent, took the aggressive from the clang of the bell in the first round and was going just as strong at the finish. It was the Welsh of old. Never once did Leonard have a look-in. The seasoned veteran of many a campaign made his opponent look like a novice.

The Nationals received an awful bumping at the hands of the Tigers. Four straight defeats does not show pennant possibilities in a team.

The Yanks turned on the White Sox. But they need victories now as the Red Sox are keeping close and ready to hurdle Donovan's men at the first sign of wavering.

Cleveland Loses to Bean Town

The Athletics never will get up to their score of defeats. The Browns proved their master again.

The Dodgers keep setting a stiff pace. But they could always play good ball on their home lot.

Bryan Ball Club Will Play Local Team Tomorrow

The Bryan baseball team will be the attraction at Murphy street park tomorrow afternoon. From indications this game will be one of the best of the season, as both of the clubs have been going at top speed all season and so far have exhibited no signs of breaking.

The visitors will come here with a line-up consisting of players of big league experience and are confident of winning the contest. Al Schultz, former member of the Findlay club in the Buckeye league, will do the twirling for the visitors.

Little need be said of the ability of Schultz. During the life of the league the sturdy German stood opposition on their heads. Lima fans will remember that he was considered one of the best pitchers in the league.

Coming to this city as the visitors do with wins over Paulding, Payne and other northwestern Ohio clubs, they have already placed the result of the contest on the credit side of the win column. A good many of the players in their line-up are from Toledo.

The line-up of the Independent club will be the same as in previous contests with the possible exception of one position. This hole will be filled by Calhoun, of Charleston, W. Va., if the situation demands it.

Carroll, the classy pitcher of the local club, will be on the firing line. With eight out of nine starts to his credit, he states that he intends to make this record read nine out of ten. Carroll is even harder to beat during warm weather.

The favorites of the Independent club will be in uniform. Herring, Reynolds, Costello, Long, Jack Malloy and Carroll are sure to be much pep in their fight for supremacy on the club. The game will be called at Murphy street promptly at 3 o'clock.

NEW YORK, July 29.—Trading was quiet on the stock exchange at the opening today but all the leading issues showed a firm tone although changes in prices generally were narrow. Third Avenue was the only exception, that stock opening 1/4 lower at 62 1/2. The Marine issues were in good demand with the two classes of stocks and bonds making fractional gains. United States Steel after selling 1/4 lower at 86 1/2 quickly recovered the loss. Mexican Petroleum gained 3/4 to 98 1/2.
